CHANCE TO FINISH BRYAN.

THOMAS F. RYAN SAYS OLD-LINE DEMOCRATS HAVE IT NOW.

The Business Associate of Mr. William C. Whitney Declares That When the Nebraskan Is Killed Politically Then the Party Can Be Reorganized and Rebabilitated.

Thomas F. Ryan, who is very closely associated with ex-Secretary of the Navy William C. Whitney in many of the great business enterprises with which Mr. Whitney is identified, has returned to this city after a vacation trip in the course of which he spent several weeks visiting the States on the Pacific slope and in the Middle West. Up to 1896 Mr. Ryan never voted for any but a Democratic candidate for office, but in that year unable to subscribe to the Chicago platform and Bryanism he voted for McKinley. In an interview yesterday Mr. Ryan said that he should vote for the reelec-tion of President McKinley and that he thought that it was the duty of all the Democrats of the old school to vote against the Kansas City platform and its candidates, in order that Bryanism might be crushed and the Democratic party redeemed.

The men who are at present in control of what is left of the Democratic organization allowed Bryan to dictate everything at Kansas City, and he delivered the organization over to the Populist party," said Mr Ryan. "According to my way of thinking that does not make the Bryan organization the Democratic party. In many of the old-line Democratic States the feeling of disgust at the disgrace which has overtaken the Democracy is appearing plainly. It was shown by the position taken at Kansas City by men like Senator Daniel of Virginia and many others who coun-selled conservatism in drafting the platform. I think that the Gold Democrats will vote for McKinley as the surest way of destroying the evil that threatens the country's prosperity, and reputation and influence. I shall vote for McKinley. I never cast any other than a Democratic vote until the last Presidential election. I then felt it my duty to the country to vote for the Republican candidates, and I feel it doubly a duty to do so now. Bryan will be defeated, and this defeat will make an end of him politically. Then the followers of the true Democratic faith throughout the country will get together and reorganize the party, and it will resume its honored position just as it did after the Greenback craze under the leadership of Til-

Mr. Ryan was asked what he thought of the Democratic plank on imperialism. This is

"It is the most unpatriotic utterance that has come from any assemblage of men claiming to be loyal citizens in the history of this country. to be loyal citizens in the history of this country. It will nerve the hands of the country's enemies wherever they are to be found. Resistance to the United States authority in the Philippines is being assisted every day by the so-called anti-imperialists. They are lending moral support to guerrilla warfare and rebellion in the Islands. The attempt to make an issue of rebellion and to poll the Democratic party in favor of pulling down our flag at Manila and marching home our army in disgrace, insults Mayor of pulling down our mag at Manna ammarching home our army in disgrace, insult the history of the Democratic party and is at affront to every true American.

"But that is not the issue," Mr. Ryan continued, "and Bryan will not be able to make as a true of it. The dishoner, filterent della tinued, "and Bryan will not be able to make an issue of it. The dishonest fitty-cent dollar is the issue. Free riot is the issue. The attack on the Supreme Court is the issue; and they are all just as paramount to-day as they were in 1896. They will continue to be paramount as long as Mr. Bryan runs the Demoratic organization.

"Naturally, the Pacific Coast States and the Southern States will derive the greatest direct between the United States and the Far East, Cuba and Porto Rizo. Before next November lish it as a conservative force. It has been said many times that the most astute politicians in the Democratic household were anxious to see Col. Bryan nominated in order that his career of domination in the Democratic party might be brought to a decisive conclusion. It was said that they felt it would be better for the party to be completely purged of Bryanism by an overwhelming defeat at the polls when the issue was clearly drawn, than to have the conservative element regain control by a small and possibly unreliable majority in the convention; and for this reason many Democrats whose counsel was sought by the managers of the party previous to its complete surrender to Bryanism made no effort to influence the course of events at Kansas City. When it has been demonstrated that the people will not indorse a policy such as is advocated by Col. Bryan, these men intend to go in and rebuild the Democracy. Until the time comes to do that they are not paying much attention to it.

MANY DEMOCRATS RESIGNING.

One-Quarter of Cincinnati's Election Officers Quit-Dissatisfied With Their Party.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 15 .- Three hundred out of the 1,200 election officers have resigned and the Board of Elections is anxious to fill the vacancies owing to the approach of the primary election, which will take place within thirty or forty days. Clerk Greer of, the board said

"Three hundred vacancies and resignation still coming in is the record and there is no telling when the end will come. Nearly all of the resignation are Democrats, who are dissatisfied with their party and who will not support the national ticket at the coming election and do not see their way to serve as Democrats when they intend to vote for McKinley."

O. H. P. BELMONT FOR BRYAN NOW. He Defines His Position Before Starting Out for Saratoga.

Perry Belmont, who had a heated discussion with Col. William J. Bryan in March of 1899 over the question of what constituted a Democrat, went up to Saratoga yesterday to be present at the meeting of the State Committee to-day. As Mr. Belmont was going from Thirty-fourth street to Forty-second street, on his way to the Grand Central station from the Long Island ferry. he gave out a statement defining his position in the present campaign. Mr. Bel-mont was a Gold Democrat in 1896 and presided at the great Madison square mass meeting at which W. Bourke Cockran tore Bryan to pieces. Among other things Mr. Belmont said yester-

Among other things Mr. Belmont said yester-day:

Mr. Palmer and Gen. Buckner have been reported as advising Democrats to vote for McKinley. Four years ago I did what I could for their candidacy at a time when Federal finance, coinage and taxation constituted the supreme issue. But since then the McKinley administration and the Republican leaders and the Senate have made a new and vital issue for 1900. That new issue is well enough described as Imperialism. The President asks the voters not merely to condone but justify his usurpation of legislative and judicial powers for our new islands during the past two years. If he should be reflected there will be an end of the great political experiment based upon the strict observance of our Constitution. There will eventually disappear the political inducements which during the century have transferred some of the best blood of the Old World into the veins of the New. I shall do all that I can for the success of the Democratic ticket."

Altgeld to Speak in German Around the

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 15.—The announcement was made from Democratic headquarters today that former Governor John P. Altgeld of Illinois would make a number of speeches in Indians during the coming campaign, and that his speech would be delivered in the German language and addressed solely to those citizens. It is the purpose to have him speak in the large cities where there are many German voters and in some of the country regions where the foreign element predominates.

W. F. Wappich of Omaha Declares for McKinley -Can't Accept Kansas City Platform. OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 15.-William F. Wappich,

Democratic lawyer of Omaha, who officiated as one of the assistant sergeants-at-arms at Kansas City, and who has been one of W. J. Bryan's main supports since the first day of his political career, has left the party and a big sensation is the result. To-day he resigned his membership in the Douglas County Service Club, of which he was the founder, and gave to the press this statement:

"The Kansas City platform is too much for any Democrat who has thinking facilities of his own. The reiteration of the absurd idea that value can be legislated into a commodity is not by any means the only weakness in the Kansas City resolutions. After knuckling to

is not by any means the only weakness in the Kansas City resolutions. After knuckling to the demands of the Silver Republicans and Populists for the 16 to 1 plank, and thus enfeebling their position, the Democrats in the convention sought to repair the damage by creating a paramount issue out of the conditions in the Philippine Islands. Mr. Bryan is now putting on the finishing touch by giving voice to some very catchy phrases about imperialism and some very reverential allusions to the Constitution.

"I am a thorough believer in the course being pursued by the present Administration as regards the Philippine Islands. I can think of no other course of procedure for the erection of stable government there. First of all, order must be brought out of chaos and the Filipinos forced to respect the law. Until this is done, a stable government for them is impossible, and independence for them is not to be considered. After the establishment of law and order in the Philippines will be the best time to consider what kind of a government they are fit for. I think the preaching of Filipino inderendence is premature.

"Mr. Bryan probably knows that he is putting the cart ahead of the horse, but by doing so he is enabled to use the Filipinos for campaign purposes and that is all he wants to do. The Kansas City platform, in dealing with this Philippine matter, reaches still another queer notion. After presuming that the setting up of a Philippine republic will be the easiest thing in the world, the promise is made that such a republic is to be protected by this Government forever.

"I understand this to mean that the Morroe ver."

"I understand this to mean that the Monroe Doctrine is to be stretched across 12,000 miles of land and sea to maintain the independent government of a people whose free citizenship is regarded as a menace to the civilization of a republic. I don't believe the Monroe Doctrine was ever intended for such a purpose.

roe Doctrine was ever intended for such a purpose.

The cant of the Bryan campaign is added to by this man Web-ster Davis. The idea of such a man going about the country shouting for freedom and liberty. The hypocrisy of Davis is well understood by the people of Kansas City who know him. He was elected Mayor of Kansas City as the candidate of a well-known order whose only excuse for existence was a desire to establish proscription in this country. As Mayor of Kansas City, he denied the rights of freedom and liberty to American citizens whose religious faith happened to bring them under the ban of proscription. He is, indeed, a fine specimen to advocate the cause of the Boers, to plead for freedom and liberty in South Africa after denying the same blessings to Americans at home.

MASON'S CAMPAIGN PLANS. The Senator Will Give His Best Efforts for the Re-election of McKinley.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 15 .- Notwithstanding his criticisms of the Administration and Secre-tary Hay for alleged British leanings, Senator William E. Mason announced to-day that he will give McKinley and Roosevelt his best support throughout the campaign. He said: "My trip to the Pacific Coast at this time is my first vacation in fifty years. Instead of sending my family to Europe I thought I would spend my money at home and show them some were in 1896. They will continue to be paramount as long as Mr. Bryan runs the Democratic organization.

"Naturally, the Pacific Coast States and the Southern States will derive the greatest direct benefit from the development of commerce between the United States and the Far East, Cuba and Porto Rico. Before next November the people of these States will understand what anti-imperialism means to them, and I reckon you will see some surprising changes in their votes on election day. New York is as certain for McKinley as Pennsylvania or Vermont, and Bryan's 18-to-1 plank has settled the question of the German vote. It will be solid for McKinley and honest money in all the States."

Mr. Ryan's remark last night that old-line Democrats and followers of the true Democratic faith would have an opportunity after the defeat of Bryan and Stevenson in the fall campaign to reorganize the Democratic party, was taken to mean that Mr. Whitney and the other Democratics of the party previous to its capture by the Populists at the Chicago Convention of 1886 had made up their minds that with Bryan disposed of there would be an opportunity for them to regain control of the party machinery throughout the nation, and to recistable hit as a conservative force. It has been said many times that the most astute politicians in the Democratic household were anxious to of the magnificent grandeur of Alaska, Wash-

Chairman Gourley and Robert Davis Stick to

William B. Gourley, chairman of the New ersey State Democratio Committee, visited Jersey City yesterday and established the headquarters of the committee in rooms 1 and 3 of the Hotel Washington. They will not be opened until Monday.

No sooner had this business been arranged than Mr. Gourley was waited on by several than Mr. Gouriey was waited on by several members of the Robert Davis Association who were anxious to know if the date of the State Convention, Sept. 12, could not be changed, as the annual outing of the association is fixed for the same day. Mr. Gouriey said it could not. He regretted the conflict and hoped that it would not prevent Mr. Davis and other Hudson county Democrats from attending the convention. He was not aware until after the date of the convention had been published that the association had selected the same day for its outing.

that the association had selected the same day for its outing.

"None of us knew that fact," he continued, "because Hudson county was not represented at the meeting at which the date of the convention was fixed. None of us had been invited to the outing. It would be undignified to change the date now."

Mr. Davis was out of town, but Thomas I. Miggins, Deputy Collector, said that Mr. Davis had authorized him to say that the date of the outing would not be changed even if Hudson county were not represented at the State Convention in consequence.

The members of the association said that an invitation for the outing was sent to Mr. Gourley more than two weeks ago. He never failed to attend the outings for years, they said, and they thought it strange that the invitation for this affair had not reached him.

SHEPARD IS FOR BRYAN NOW. The Brooklyn Man Explains His Recent

Change of Heart. Edward M. Shepard, who is now a good and loyal follower of the Kings county Democratic machine, which is led by the Hon. Hugh McLaughlin, gave out a statement yesterday in which he said that he would vote for Bryan and Stevenson, and that he considered imperialism the "paramount issue of the campaign." Mr. Shepard has a great many reasons for his change of views, which he sets forth at length in his statement. He believes that the policy of expansion is dangerous, and he sees a particular danger in the present Chinese situation. He says that it is proper that the military and naval forces of the United States should be used for the protection of our ministers and citizens, but that because we occupy the Philippines there is a strong temptation to seize a portion of China.

Mr. Shepard says that the Kansas City Convention put great difficulties in the way of the support of its candidates by men who hold optnions like his, but that the things in the platform to which he is opposed aren't material. Mr. Shepard ends up his statement by saying that he is not a candidate for any office, that he wont attend the conference at Indianapolis, and that his friends, A. Augustus Healey and Harrington Putnam, send word from Europe and the Pacific coast respectively that they hold opinions which are similar to his. and Stevenson, and that he considered im-

REPUBLICANS TOO SURE?

POSTMASTER-GENERAL SMITH POINTS OUT THE DANGER IN THIS.

nator Kean, Too, Declares That Republi-cans Must Work if They Wish to Escape the Dangers of Bryanism-Views of Others Given at National Headquarters Yesterday. Senator Hanna, chairman of the Republican National Committee, was in his office at 1 Madison avenue early yesterday morning and stayed there until late in the afternoon. Mr. Hanna was busy all the time. He had a number of callers, among whom was Postmaster-General of Connecticut, Senator John Kean of New Jersey, who has just been appointed on the Advisory Committee, and several others. Mr. Smith told Senator Hanna that so far as he was able to see the only thing that threatened the success of the Republican ticket this fall was a feeling of overconfidence. Mr. Smith de-clares that he has been shocked at the self-satisfied way in which men who ought to be taking an active part in the campaign are sitting around telling each other that it is no use to work as the election of Mr. McKinley is a foregone conclusion. Mr. Smith has found these men in all parts of the country. In speaking about it vesterday he said:

"One thing I would greatly emphasize is that too much is taken for granted as to our certain success in the election. The outlook is certainly very promising, but there is danger that the people are taking too much for granted and that success is assumed to be certain, when it is not certain unless the essential work and essential conditions are fulfilled."

"Is there anything in Bryan's speech of aceptance to which you care to reply?" was

"There are two points especially that ought to arouse universal attention and ought to be emphasized everywhere," said Mr. Smith. The first is his unqualified declaration that n case he is elected he will immediately summon Congress in extra session, which involves im-mediate presentation of all the dangers of mediate presentation of an the dangers of the presentation of an the dangers of the presentation to Aguinaldo and the Tagais practically to continue their warfare, because if they can continue it until he is elected President they will succeed in their object.

"How would Bryan's election be more immediately dangerous than it would have been four years ago?"

diately dangerous than it would have been four years ago?

"Mr. Bryan's declaration that in the event of his election he proposes to call Congress immediately together in extra session, for the purpose of dealing with questions which he would present to it, is practically a declaration to the country that all the menace that is involved in his election would be immediately precipitated upon the country—that we will not even have a respite until December, but it will come just as soon as he is installed. His election would immediately destroy public confidence and that blow would be all the greater in view of his declaration that within four months from that time he would have assembled Congress together, which would of course be a Bryan Congress if there was a Bryan President."

"Do you think that all branches at Washington would be Democratio in case of Bryan's election?"

"The House would be certain and the other branch so close as to be practically in control of the President. It would be an immediate destruction of public confidence and arrest all enterprise. I think that the people have assumed that the passage of the Currency law was the settlement of the currency question. Now it is not the settlement unless we have a Republican Senate and a Republican House. It would be unsettled at once by the election of Bryan. People have taken it for granted that this question was settled and out of the way. But it would become unsettled immediately upon a change of conditions."

Senator Kean was asked whether he believed the people realized fully the danger of Bryanism. He said that he had observed the same feeling of overconfidence which had attracted Mr. Smith's attention, and that it had made him believe that there was real cause for uneasiness. "I think the people in New Jersey think they are going to be successful without their having any reason for thinking so," said Senator Kean. "They have got to be roused and made to feel that things are not accomplished except by work. They have got to work. They have not been aroused to the importance of the occasion. Of course, it is early with us now, as many of the people are away for the summer, either at the mountains or at the seashore. Our campaign will open on Sept. 6 at Trenton, when we hold the State Convention. I shall take an active part in the campaign."

Senator Platt of Connecticut met Post master-General Smith, but they did not discuss the Neely case. Commissioner of Internal Revenue "The House would be certain and the other

THE M'KINLEYS LEAVE CANTON. Plans for the Rest of the Campaign-The President to Do No Political Work.

CANTON, Ohio, Aug. 15 .- President and Mrs McKinley left Canton to-day to be gone two weeks. When they return it will be to resume practically the same habits at the Canton home that have marked their sojourn here during the past seven weeks. The President is not coming back to make a front-porch campaign nor even to receive handshaking political delegations on his lawn. There is every indication that the delegations would like to come and that only a suggestion that they would be welcomed is needed to reënact the scenes of welcomed is needed to resnact the scenes of '96. But from the first the President has been averse to such a campaign. Stories that such was the pian have been revived lately, but it can be said on high authority that such is not the case. The President is averse to doing anything not in keeping with the dignity of his high office, and partisan appeals in campaign speeches might be so regarded.

A trip to the Pacific coast, which has been spaken of in connection with a series of rearplatform speeches, is more likely to be taken after election than before. President and Mrs. McKinley really want to visit the western slope, but the present indications are that the same reasons which prevent a front-porch campaign will prevent the trip. The trip to Chicago for the T. A. R. encamment is also to be kept absclutely free from anything that might be regarded as political. All'efforts at formal demonstrations along the way will be discouraged and there is no probability of any speaking except in connection with the formal programme as announced. Of course if crowda are assembled on the platforms as the train passes the President will probably bow his greetings from the platform, but no stops will be provided for and it is probable that the trip will be made in a special car attached to a regular train.

The President was accompanied by Mrs.

will be made in a special car attached to a regular train.

The President was accompanied by Mrs. McKinley, Secretary Cortelyou and Dr. Rixey and the members of the executive office force who have been doing the work here. The party left on a special car attached to the regular Pennsylvania Raiiroad train, and will reach Washington to-morrow morning. The household will be back in Canton by Sent. 1.

No one associated with the President was prepared to say anything about the letter of acceptance before leaving Canton, except that it has not yet been completed. It has been the intention all along to make this document public in Canton, and it is probable that it will be issued soon after the return.

ROOSEVELT TO SPEAK IN MONTANA State Committee Makes Arrangements for

CLARK TRYING TO BEAT CHANDLER? GOLF AT SOUTHAMPTON. Montana Man Said to Be Seeking Revenge on

CONCORD, N. H., Aug. 15 .- The Monitor to night publishes an editorial article charging that former Senator Clark of Montana intends to use a large sum of money in an endeavor to defeat the reelection of Senator Chandler to the United States Senate in revenge for the attitude Mr. Chandler took in unseating the Montana man. The article says in part:

"In addition to any other questions which may arise as to the wisdom or expediency of reelecting Senator Chandler, the Republicans of New Hampshire are confronted with this Charles Emory Smith, Senator Orville H. Platt | important and serious inquiry: Shall former Senator W. A. Clark of Montana, by corrupt expenditures of vast sums of money, take revenge upon Mr. Chandler for his successful efforts in forcing Clark from the Senate because his election was void on account of corrupt practices and bribery?
"That Senator Clark intends to enter New Hampshire with money there is no doubt. He has sworn vengeance upon Mr. Chandler, and has declared that he will spend $100,000 to defeat him. He may think that he can, for his purpose, spend money through New Hampshire Democrats. There is not lacking evidences that he intends, if possible, thus to evidences that he intends, if possible, thus to spend money through Republican hands if he can find them willing. He is desperate and malignant, doubtless indiscreet in his words and acts, and it is to be hoped that neither Democrats nor Republicans will receive nor use the wages of bribery and corruption in an attempt to destroy Mr. Chandler.

"But the danger to Senator Chandler is a real one. Clark is worth from $50,000,000 to $75,000,000, and his income is about $10,000,000. His son, Charles, who is his principal political manager, swore that he had himself an income of $250,000 per year. The corrupt methods by which these two men, father and son, accomplished the father's election to the Senate are shown by Senator Chandler's report. They admitted the expenditure of $150,000; they undoubtedly spent two or three times that sum.

"The Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections exposed the briberies and unanimously declared that the election was null and void; and Senator Clark resigned and ran away to renew his corrupt assaults upon the suffrage in Montans.

"Incidentally, while spending a million in Montans, he intends, if possible, to spend a tenth of a million in New Hampshire, to punish, defeat and degrade Senator Chandler. Is he to be allowed to do this?"

NEBRASKA PARTY CONTESTS. Protests Against Giving Silver Republicans and

Mid-Roaders Places on the Ballot. LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 15.-The right of the Silver Republican and Mid-road Populist parties to places on the official ballot in Nebraska this fall was argued to-day before Secretary of State Porter. The regular Republican organization objects in the case of the Silver Republicans and the regular Populists protest against the

The Silver Republican party was organized four years ago and since then has been a part of the triple alliance in Nebraska politics against the regular Republicans. The objections to the Silver Republicans summed up are three in number as follows: First-At the last election the Silver Re-

First—At the last election the Silver Republicans failed to poll 1 per cent. of the entire vote cast in the State, as required by law.

Second—They violated the election law passed by the last Legislature in assuming a portion of a name of an older party. Third—They are not a regular party, inasmuch as they have no candidates of their own, simply indorsing the nominees of other parties.

The Silverites, in defence, say that the second objection is based on the presumption that the statute in question is retroactive, having been passed since the Silver Republican party was organized. The State Constitution is cited to uphold the contention that no statute can be retroactive.

lican party was organized. The State Constitution is cited to uphold the contention that no statute can be retroactive.

The regular Populist or People's party bases its objection to the appearance of the Mid-road ticket on about the same grounds mentioned in the Republican protest. It is maintained that the use of the party designation "Populist," as sought by the Mid-roaders, would confuse the voter, who has become accustomed to the use of that designation by the regular People's party. Any confusion of the voter, say the People's party managers, is contrary to the election laws. The further allegation is made that the Mid-roaders were lacking the 200 delegates at their State convention required by the statute before their ticket goes on the ballot.

Affidavits were presented by the Populist State Convention in support of the contention that the delegates that attended the Mid-road State Convention went there on free railroad transportation, which the regular Populists charge was furnished by the Republican State Committee.

The nersent Secretary of State was elected

The Republican National Committee issued yesterday a document on expansion, com-posed entirely of quotations from the men whom Col. William Jennings Bryan is fond of referring to in his public speeches. The document was compiled by Albert H. Walker of the New York Bar, and consists of extracts from the public and private utterances of George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Ulysses S.
Grant, John Marshall, Henry Clay, Albert
Gallatin, James Madison, James K. Polk, Abraham Lincoln, Andrew Jackson, Renjamin
Franklin, Alexander Hamilton, William H.
Seward, Stephen A. Douglas, Gouverneur
Morris, James Buchanan and Franklin Pierce.
It has been one of Mr. Bryan's favorite tricks to declare that none of the great men in the history of the United States ever said anything except in denunciation of the tendency of the country to grow. Mr. Walker's compilation starts off with six quotations from Washington, Lincoln, Jefferson, Douglas, Jackson and Grant, all of whom said that the country had the power to grow, to govern dependencies, to acquire territory and to do all of the things which Col. Bryan says it shouldn't do. The National Committee is going to print a million copies of the document as a starter, and wherever it is found that the Democrats are telling the voters that all of the Fathers of the Country were opposed to expansion, this refutation will be circulated. Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Ulysses S.

MISS BEATRIX HOYT BEATEN IN THE HANDICAP TOURNAMENT.

Wins the Cup at Richfield Springs After a Close Match With S. C. Clark-Champion Taylor Talks-Many Tournaments Decided. SOUTHAMPTON, Aug. 15.-The match play ounds were started in the tournament for the associate members to-day at the Shinnecock Hills Golf Club. 'A strong wind from the northwest bothered the players greatly. The order was changed so that they could play either in the morning or the afternoon, the first announcement having fixed the starting time at 2:30 o'clock. The features of the morning play were the success of Miss Clark, who conceded eight strokes, and the good match won by Mrs. Charles S. Brown, who gave away four strokes. Mrs. Brown won the women's national championship of 1895, at Meadow Brook, the first held in this country. In the afternoon Miss Beatrix Hoyt, who has three national championships to her credit, had to give 12 strokes to Miss Wickham. The latter was on her best game and won by 3 up and 2 to play, Mrs. Miller and Miss Crocker, who met on even terms, had the closest match of the day. The summary:
Miss Julia Clark, 10, beat Miss Henderson, 18, by 3 up and 2 to play; Mrs. Chiles S. Brown, 12, beat Miss Guilliver, 16, by 3 up and 2 to play; Mrs. Charles S. RICHFIELD SPRINGS, Aug. 15.—Quite a large assemblage of society people witnessed the final rounds this afternoon at the Walontha Golf Club links for the Richfield Springs and the women's cups. The first match to start was the contest between A. D. Compton, Westchester Golf Club, and Stephen C. Clark, Otsego Golf Club. There two experts met last Saturday in the final round of the Otsego Golf Club open tournament and they gave a grand exhibition of golf, Compton finally winning by 2 up and 1 to play. Knowing how well they played together, the cottagers and hotel guests visited the links in goodly numbers to witness the match, which, in every respect, proved as interesting, if not more so, than their great match at the Otsego links. Clark went out in 43 and Compton in 46, the former being 1 up at the turn. Coming home Compton did the course in 43 and Clark four, which made them break even at the eighteenth green. The bogey for the course is 40, but it is a difficult matter for any person to cover the course in bogey flaures. Compton took the first hole in the bogey of 4, but he was not in it on the next three holes, which were won by Clark, the first two in bogey flaures and the next in the par golf of 3. It was faultiess golf on the winning end and the "gallery" was delighted with the grand display of skill. The fifth hole was halved in 6, one stroke above bogey, while the sixth was halved in the bogey of 5. Then Clark won the seventh in the bogey of 4, which gave him the lead by 3 up and filled the Cooperstown people with joy, as they could see nothing to say about this time, as he braced up and won the eighth hole in the par golf of 4 and the ninth in the bogey of 5, which only left him 1 down at the turn, with nine more holes to catch up in. Clark won the tenth hole in the bogey of 4; but his lead of 2 up did not do him much good, as Compton of the match as Compton to the hea

From an inside source it has been ascertained that Prince Poniatowsky would surely acquire both tracks and that Henry J. Crocker would be associated with him. Since the closing of Ingleside, its stock has depreclated in valuetto a great extent and Eastern stockholders have been anxious to self for some time past. It is generally known that opposition to Ed.
